1. In response to your most recent query about Agency interest in renting part of your [redacted] offices, I must advise you that the space strategy defined by the EXCOM for the next four years does not include a need for the 42,000 square feet offered.

2. One of our goals, as you know, is to make a concentration of offices [redacted]; thus, acquisition of the remainder of [redacted] is part of the space strategy. The Real Estate Branch is working with the General Services Administration to prepare for it and will advise you periodically as the action progresses.

3. Thank you for your helpful interest and cooperation by holding open your offer while our plans were formed.
